Michael J. Garner
Michael J. Garner, Chief Business Diversity Officer

NYC Mayor Eric Adams appointed Michael J. Garner, MBA, New York City’s first Citywide Chief Business Diversity Officer in early February, 2023

Mr. Garner formerly served as Chief Diversity & Inclusion Officer at the Metropolitan Transportation Authority (MTA). His tenure at the MTA spanned 14 years from February 2009 through February 2023. He is a diversity champion, making it his personal and professional mission to create a more diverse business environment wherever he’s involved.

By creating new programs, Mr. Garner and his teams were responsible for more than $20 billion in payments to New York State/City Minority and Women-owned Businesses. In addition, since Mr. Garner’s arrival at the MTA, the Authority has improved its hiring of Blacks, Hispanics, and Asians by 20% across the MTA’s six different operating agencies.

During his tenure at the MTA, he also designed the country’s leading MWDBE Business Development Program based on dollars paid. As the architect of the MTA’s Small Business Mentoring Program, he transformed the largest transportation system in North America with a results-driven construction mentoring program. The program continues to break down barriers for minority, women, disadvantaged and service-disabled veteran-owned businesses in New York State, who otherwise would not have contract opportunities in the transportation industry.

Under his leadership, the MTA’s Small Business Mentoring Program awarded 575 contracts totaling $620 million to program participants. Overall and through his efforts, more than $17.1 Billion were paid to New York State certified MWBEs. During Mr. Garner’s tenures at the New York City Housing Authority (NYCHA), the New York City School Construction Authority (SCA), and the MTA, Mr. Garner and his teams were responsible for more than $20 billion in dollars paid to both NYC/ NYS certified MWBEs and MTA certified DBEs.

As a recognized industry and community leader, Mr. Garner has had a real impact on the MTA and the MWDBE Business Community, but his work and avid vision does not end there. He is an active member of the Canaan Baptist Church in Harlem, a sought-after speaker across the country on effective MWDBE Programs, an advisor on MWDBE matters to various U.S. Cities and States including the City of Buffalo, the City of Chicago, Chicago Transit Authority (CTA), and the State of New Jersey. He has also served in various executive advisory capacities including:

- Former NYS Governor David Paterson’s Small Business Advisory Council
- Harlem Hospital Board
- Former Treasurer, New York/New Jersey Minority Supplier Development Council
- 100 Black Men of America – Chairman, Development & Corporate Relations Committee
- United States Rugby Association – Board of Directors
- President of the Founding Chapter for One Hundred Black Men of New York City; Current Chairman of the Corporate Board

Mr. Garner hopes to bring his deep breadth of M/WBE programming experiences, his vast network of M/WBE advocates and champions, and a proven track record, to the City of New York as it’s first Citywide Chief Business Diversity Officer, and Director of the Mayor’s Office of M/WBEs.

“E.W. Howell Co. LLC is an Equal Opportunity Employer”
The many distinctions Tarolyn Buckles has received for her civil engineering and construction firm, Onyx Enterprise, will forever be a testament to over 35 years of hard work and dedication to solving the nation’s infrastructure challenges and serving her community.

Last year, the Woman and Minority-owned business was the recipient of the Minority Firm of the Year from the US Department of Commerce, Minority Business Development Agency (MBDA). This prestigious award became the most important out of all the others Buckles received, she says.

“It was an honor,” Buckles says. “I felt extremely proud that I was on that stage receiving the highest award in the nation. It spoke to all of the hard work over the years, and the dedication each of my employees demonstrate every day in providing quality service to our clients.”

At this time, Buckles’ had already been a Detroit MBDA client for over 10 years and decided to work with two more MBDA charters in Dallas, Texas, and Cleveland, Ohio in hopes of receiving federal contracts. She says Detroit MBDA has been a “huge” resource and credits Senior Business Development Consultant Sharon Crockett for being the coach she needed for business resources.

“Sharon has been attending my organization National Association of Minority Consulting Engineers meetings that I have with partners like MDOT. She is an advocate for small businesses, to increase opportunities on local and state projects,” Buckles said.

Len Becker, senior vice president of HNTB Corp. told Crain's Detroit Business, Buckles’ success “in building her engineering consulting firm, the leadership roles she plays in industry organizations, and her commitment to developing the next generation through investing in high school and college students makes her one of the notable women in STEM.”
Buckles founded her business in 2007 and launched it full-time in 2011. By 2012, she already had three contracts in six months. Onyx Enterprise uses a holistic approach when managing projects keeping in mind sustainable energy, quality engineering, and cost. Her company provides project and construction management, and permitting services to industries such as water resources, infrastructure, building, and energy.

To date, Onyx Enterprises has 14 certifications with some from the City of Detroit, MDOT, Lean Six Sigma Green Belt, and has managed over $2B in construction work.

The business also garnered an impressive client base including the Detroit Water & Sewerage Department, Northeast Ohio Regional Sewer District, and Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT), their top client.

As co-founder of the National Association of Minority Consulting Engineers, Buckles worked with MDOT and the American Council of Engineering Companies to develop the Mentor Protégé program for Small Businesses.

“I mentor a lot of young engineers and we bring them on as interns; I just recently hired three Historically Black University civil engineering graduates,” Buckles said. “We are positively impacting our community by hiring, giving jobs, and training them on major infrastructure projects.”

Buckles, an advocate for diversity, has served on executive boards such as the National Society of Black Engineers Detroit Alumni Extension, co-founded the Coalition of Black Organizations, University of Michigan Civil Engineering Alumni Board past chair and past vice chair, and the City of Detroit Wrecking Commission appointed by the Mayor of Detroit.

In 16 years she has grown her Detroit headquarters to two more offices in Cleveland, Ohio, and Atlanta, Georgia, and plans to open a third in St. Petersburg, Florida.

“We’ll be pursuing Florida Department of Transportation work and also airport work, very similar to the work that Onyx is doing here in Michigan for airports, DOT, and City of Detroit municipal work projects, which is either construction engineering inspection or municipal utility design,” Buckles said.

Buckles is proud of her company, and her employees, which she considers to be the backbone of the firm, and is most proud of the significant infrastructure projects Onyx Enterprise has been able to procure.

“All of the infrastructure work that we do, small to large projects, are all significant because we are impacting our community doing the much-needed work in a profession that we love, Civil Engineering and Construction,” Buckles said.

Section 3 Employment Opportunities

WDF supports hiring Section 3 of the Housing and Urban Development (HUD) mandate that requires employment and other economic opportunities generated by federal assistance to public housing authorities to be directed, whenever possible, to public housing residents and other low and very low-income residents to work on all of our New York City Housing Authority ("NYCHA") projects. WDF supports hiring Resident Employment Program (REP), which requires that 15 percent of the labor amount of NYCHA construction contracts greater than $500,000 be spent on resident hiring. To that end, WDF’s approach to meet NYCHA Section 3 requirement and our past Section 3 performance has been to commit to working with Resident Economic Empowerment Sustainability Department (REES) to source Category 1 and 2 residents.

Awarded NYCHA Contracts Goals: REP 15%; Section 3 Requirement 30%; M/WBE Business Concerns
